Communicating with our patients with new app roll out

We have been trialling a translation service app called Insight app following an extensive review of translation services at the trust and have now successfully rolled out the app across both our Paramedic Emergency Service (PES) and Patient Transport Service (PTS) for staff to access. The Insight app will allow both PES and PTS crews to speak with patients who do not speak English with audio interpreting available in various languages and video interpreting for basic sign language interpretation support.

The app is available for staff to access on their iPads which allows them to easily access this service when necessary.

NWAS Winter Campaign - Every Second Counts This Winter

Every year, we face increasing demand for our service during the colder months. It's important to us that when you need us the most, we are there for you. Last year, we launched our winter campaign 'Every Second Counts' to support and inform our public on which service best suits your medical needs.

The options to support you when you are unwell or injured are there, and this helps emergency services, A&E departments and minor injury units to get you the right care, when you need it the most.

So before you ring 999...think...is there a threat to life? If not...think 111 online. That way we can answer and help those that need us most, faster. Help us save more lives.

Educating and listening to the communities we serve through community conversation events

On Thursday 26 October 2023, our Patient Engagement Team delivered its first community conversation event in Merseyside. Our first event went very well, with an excellent turnout of members from the public with various feedback and questions raised around careers, accessing services and delays calling NHS 111, improving health and well being, not just staff but for patients, and what NWAS vision is on improving mental health services in the area.

Our events are free to attend with free lunch and refreshments served and a great opportunity to find out more about our 999, 111 and patient transport services, meet local managers from our different service lines and to share your feedback and experiences with us.

We will be holding community conversation events in Cumbria, Lancashire, Greater Manchester and Cheshire and you can find more details about our community conversation events and how to book your free places for each event on our website.

Where are we in November?

University of Bolton Careers Fair - Thursday 16 November, 11-2pm.

NWAS Community Listening event in Lancashire - Thursday 23 November, 1-4pm
