Simon, frequently called “the British John Grisham”, is the author of the best-selling Charles Holborne thriller series. The series features his antihero barrister, an East End villain made good, battling the prejudices of the 1960s, the Kray twins and the corrupt Metropolitan Police. Drawn from the headlines of the day, the criminal cases in which Simon was instructed and his own family history.

If you'd like to know what it's like to share a bacon sandwich with a convicted murderer in the Old Bailey cells; to wear a 200 yr. old horsehair wig; to do battle with corrupt members of the Sweeney, or how Simon came to sign an oath on the cabin hatch of the Golden Hind ... then book your free ticket on Eventbrite now or just pop in and join us for an entertaining evening!
